To All Pyragon Business Partners,

Pyragon, Inc. just announced the sale of its assets to SOR Controls Group of Lenexa, Kansas. This will strengthen our strategic place in the marketplace and position both the Pyragon and ADTECH products for long-term growth. The new entity will operate as Pyragon LLC (a wholly owned subsidiary of SOR Inc.).

SOR Controls Group is a global leader in the design and manufacture of measurement and control devices under the brands of SOR Measurement and Control, SSi Temperature Sensors, and SENSOR Sampling Systems. SOR Controls Group actively serves all sectors of the process industry with particular strengths in the oil & gas, petrochemical, chemical, and power segments. We also maintain an engineering and design team capable of providing engineered-to-order systems and products as required.

With manufacturing locations in Lenexa, Kansas, and Houston, Texas, and regional offices in Beijing, Dubai, and Chennai, SOR Controls Group supports a network of sales and service personnel capable of addressing customer requirements in any geographic region around the world.

The intent of this change is to enhance Pyragon's capabilities to better serve its customers. The customer service contacts, manufacturing and support will be the same as they have been in the past. This will ensure all customers of receiving the same high level of service for which you've been accustomed.

For additional information please contact your normal customer service representative or the company directly by reaching out to Tom Crumlish at tcrumlish@pyragon.com.
